WHIRLWIND CAMPAIGN

Jamestown Committee Will Have Mass Meeting Friday.

LOCAL COMMITTEE.

Christian County Is Asked to Raise $541 For the Fund of $40,000.

Louisville, Jan 21—Beginning this week the "emergency" campaign of the Kentucky Jamestown Exposition Commission will commence throughout the State. A canvass will be made in every county of Kentucky with the hope of at once rounding out the $40,000 fund which is needed for the purpose of making an exhibit of Kentucky products and resources at the Jamestown Exposition. It has become necessary to make this a whirlwind canvass for funds because it is announced from Norfolk that the Exposition will positively open on April 26, and the time for the erection of Kentucky's Building and the collection of a State Exhibit is very brief.

As has been announced, the Kentucky Building at Jamestown will be a replica of the fort erected by Daniel Boone in 1755. The main features of the original fort will be carried out, though there will be a total of only eight cabins in the Kentucky Building. Four of these cabins will be built of logs from western Kentucky and four constructed of logs shipped from the eastern section of the state. The two center cabins will be connected by a roof which will form a broad piazza between the structures and it is not improbable that there will be made on exhibit of historical objects from this State. These cabins will be used as a place where Kentucky will extend hospitality to her own citizens and the world at large during the great International Fair.

Around the entire building will run a stockade. While the original stockade was some ten feet in height, it has been decided to considerably reduce the height of the Jamestown barrier in order that the better view can be had from all the Cabins of Hampton Roads. The Kentucky Building will be situated in a beautiful pine forest and within a stone's throw of the water.

For the "Kentucky Jamestown Week" campaign which begins on Monday, Jan. 21, vice-chairmen of the Division of Finance have been appointed in each county by President J. Stoddard Johnson. Acceptances have already been received from a large number of these appointees and many of them have named their committee members. Each county is asked to subscribe to the fund a sum amounting to 1 per cent of the revenue turned into the State treasury for the county for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1905. Should each county furnish its pro rata the entire fund of $40,000 sought by the Commission will be almost exactly raised. Christian County is expected to raise $541.73. To that end a means meeting will be held at the Court house on Friday Jan 25, at 1:30 p. m. to be addressed by the "whirlwind" speakers sent out by the Committee.

Local Committee.

Mayor Meacham has appointed the following local committee: Dr. J. B. Jackson, L. H. Davis, H. L. McPherson, Judge Jas. Breathitt, A. W. Wood, Frank Rives, W. H. Southall, J. C. Buckner, John Feland W. T. Fowler, J. B. Walker, Dr. W. A. Lackey.

Alleges Abandonment.

Divorce proceedings have been filed against J. A. H. Clayton by his wife, Mrs. Emma C. Clayton. Abandonment is alleged.

DEATHS 700 AT KINGSTON.

More Lives Lost Than in the San Francisco Quake.

THE SITUATION IN HAND

American Marines Are Assisting British Authorities in Preserving Order

Communication with Kingston, Jamaica, has been re-established. Admiral Evans sent the following dispatch Saturday.

"Whipple arrived from Kingston to-day with advices from Davis, confirming practical destruction of the city. Business section destroyed. Fire followed earthquake. Government residences in suburbs destroyed. Steamship wharves intact. Shipping unharmed. Other foreign residences seemed to have escaped. American Consul absent. Vice Consul representing. Reported mutiny at penitentiary, containing 500 prisoners. Governor considers whole situation well in hand. Four hundred and forty dead accounted for. Still many bodies in ruins."

Food and medical supplies continue scarce, but relief ships are hurrying to the stricken city from many quarters, so that there will soon be an alleviation in this respect.

The dead list is probably about 700 and the seriously injured in hospital number in the neighborhood of 500. Many others who were injured are being cared for at their temporary homes.

Progress is being made in clearing away the debris. Dynamite is resorted to in clearing away menacing ruins.

Good order prevails in the city. Admiral Davis, who is in the harbor with the battleships Missouri and Indiana, was called on for help in the work of policing the city and he promptly responded by landing marines. These sea-soldiers were used in picking the streets and assisting the British authorities in the maintenance of order, until Sunday, when they were withdrawn on order of the Governor of Jamaica.

A Wonderful Happening.

Port Byron, N. Y., has witnessed one of the most remarkable cases of healing ever recorded. Amos F. King, of that place says: "Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured a sore on my leg with which I had suffered over 30 years. I am now eighty-five." Guaranteed to cure all sores, by R. C. SUFFERED AGONIES FOR FOUR YEARS

Whole Foot Nothing But Proud Flesh—Tried Different Physicians and All Kinds of Ointments—Could Walk Only With Crutches—Ohio Man Says:

"CUTICURA REMEDIES THE BEST ON EARTH"

"In the year 1899 the side of my right foot was cut off from the little toe down to the heel, and the physician who had charge of me was trying to sew up the side of my foot, but with no success. When he found out that wouldn't work, he began trying to heal the wound with all kinds of ointments, until at last my whole foot and way up above my calf was nothing but proud flesh. I suffered agonies for four years, and tried different physicians and all kinds of ointments. I could walk only with crutches. It is sixteen months since I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment for my limb and foot. The first two months the Cuticura ointment did not seem to work, but I kept on using them both. In two weeks afterwards I saw a change in my limb. Then I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment often during the day and kept it up for seven months, when my limb was healed up just the same as if it never had trouble. It is eight months now since I stopped using Cuticura Remedies, but on God's earth, I am working at the present day, after five years of suffering. The cost of Cuticura Ointment and Soap was only $5; but the doctors' bills were more like $500. You can publish my name and refer any one to write to me about Cuticura Remedies. I will answer all letters if postage is enclosed. John M. Lloyd, 718 S. Arch Ave., Alliance, Ohio, June 27, 1905."

The Penitence of Ruby-Nell.

BY M. COLUMBUS HAMILTON.
(Copyright, 1906, by Daily Story Pub. Co.)

"A woman's ways are always a mystery," said the Squire, thoughtfully, "and no mistake about it."
"I don't understand Ruby-Nell," said Mrs. Rockwood, petulantly.

"I've done all I can possibly do to persuade her to carry out her heart with Roger May, but she's as stubborn as a mule."
"Perhaps you have done too much!" The Squire chuckled as he thus mildly reproached her.

"That's just it, my dear," interposed Mr. Rockwood. "We have been too anxious. Matters of love are best left alone."

"Somebody said the wedding was to be this Thanksgiving day," said the Squire. He looked inquiringly from one to another.

"Why, he even had his license, Squire," said Mrs. Rockwood, vehemently, "and by giving him up for that flippant little city brat Ruby-Nell has crucified the heart of one of the grandest young men this community ever saw!" Mrs. Rockwood emphasized this statement with a sweeping gesture.

"There is no doubt about that," the Squire admitted. "They say Rogers never speaks of it though. Not long ago some of the boys he had been running with went to him and offered to fix and further the deal, but Roger says: 'No, boys, we have no right to interfere.'"

"The deal is gone now these three days," said Mrs. Rockwood after a pause. "A perceptible sigh escaped her as she glimpsed the snow-clad woodland which stretched away to infinity. 'Ruby-Nell has done nothing but lament for him. She has cried until her eyes are red, and she ain't a bit in two days.'"

"Are you sure, dear," said Mr. Rockwood, "that she is lamenting for the other fellow? I mean the one that left?"

"What else can it be, James? Sister Jennie tried to coax her to make up with Roger and Ruby-Nell looked daggers at her."
At the mention of her name Miss Jennie, the spinster sister of Mrs. Rockwood, and a recognized paragon of matchmakers, became alert. "Roger is stubborn, too," she said. "He is so polite and good! but he won't budge an inch. I told him a falsehood to-day, and if the expected happens there is an earthquake in this house to-night!"

"Ja, Jennie!" exclaimed Mrs. Rockwood, removing her spectacles. The Squire shifted uneasily in his chair and cleared his throat. Mr. Rockwood rose and walked down.

"A falsehood on Thanksgiving day?" queried the latter.

"A lie on Thanksgiving day is about the same as on any other day, Brother Rockwood," said the Squire. He really meant only to relieve the situation.

"It's none of your business, Squire Cox, I'll give you to know!" snapped Miss Jennie. She nursed an ancient grudge against this township functionary. He had formerly been a suitor, without success, but when he was chosen justice of the peace she had offered to share his honors and he had refused.

"Tut, tut, Jennie," said Mrs. Rockwood, raising a restraining hand. "Now tell us just what you told Roger."

"It is a secret, and I will not tell it!" declared Miss Jennie, doggedly. Miss Jennie had long been the autocrat of the Rockwood home and every one questioned the wisdom of further challenge.

"You should remember, Jennie," said Mr. Rockwood, at length, "that this is a matter in which we are quite as much interested as you are, and if you have said or done anything that will embarrass Ruby-Nell we have a perfect right to know it."

"James Rockwood," she replied, her eyes flashing fire, "have I ever done anything to embarrass you or your family?"

"No, no, Jennie, but—" "According to my way of thinking," the Squire hesitated, allowing one look from the spinster to silence him.

"But this is an occasion, and these are circumstances which have no precedent in our home," said Mr. Rockwood with gravity.

"It is your duty," said Mrs. Rockwood, sternly, "to be a actor' fair and square, to tell us what you told Roger, and you've got to do it!"

A sharp click was heard at the door leading into Ruby-Nell's room and the little group at once became all ears. Ruby-Nell entered and stepped lightly to her aunt, whose horrified face still smoldered in her apron folds.

"Come with me, aunt," she said. "It's no use," said Mrs. Rockwood, "it's no use trying to coax Jennie. She was always that headstrong!"

"Let us leave the matter with the Lord," said Mr. Rockwood, opening again the well-worn Bible.

"Have the boys chuck up the dress, James," said Mrs. Rockwood rising, "and I will go and help Mary with the turkey. We'll not be these fasses interfere with our Thanksgiving, what little of it there is left."

"It's a new idea, Sister Rockwood," said the Squire, jovially. "We don't hear of Thanksgiving Supper very often. It's mostly always Thanksgiving Dinner. I celebrate twice to-day. How does that come?"

"It's Jennie's don't. Just ask her why she did it."

Twilight, with its chores and busy preparations in the kitchen had passed, and deep, dense, snow-buried night had settled over the Rockwood household. A few guests had arrived, each offering upon the threshold some cherry word of greeting, and soon the clatter of voices around the great fire arose.

The neighborhood knew well the history of Ruby-Nell and Roger May, their expected marriage, on this very day, and the strained relations which now existed between them, and of course no one alluded to either, or offered a word of comment on the apparent absence of Ruby-Nell.

Mrs. Rockwood, in her eagerness to arrange just to taste the sumptuous supper, had almost forgotten the afternoon's experiences, but her husband's face was clouded.

At a moment when there was no human sound there came a knock—a steady, meaningful knock—at the door. Miss Jennie hesitated, clutching nervously at the hem of her apron. A step forward and another backward, a crimson countenance which she strove fruitfully to hide from the questioning scrutiny of her friends aroused the alert Squire, who leaped him to play the gallant, for here was an opportunity not to be slighted. He advanced to her side and tilted his bald head significantly. She pointed to the door and turned away. Proud, proud for many a long day in the years which followed was the Squire of the office she assigned him, for when he opened the door the blast ushered in Roger May!

The guests were speechless, congealed by an icier influence than that of the wintry night—a presence which they could not look upon in any other light than the circumstances, than that of an intruder. They riveted their eyes upon the white, manly face before them, which though drawn and grief-stricken showed not a trace of embarrassment or fear.

A door groaned with startling loudness, and Ruby-Nell, with tear-stained cheek and disheveled hair, came forward and stood for a moment in silence. Mrs. Rockwood had appeared in the dining-room doorway and stopped, amazed beyond expression. Roger advanced toward Ruby-Nell.

"I came by your appointment, Ruby-Nell," he said.

"My appointment?" There was genuine surprise in her tones.

"I was told—" he said, as his countenance fell, "I understood—that—that you cared to see me... of course... it is perfectly... all right, Ruby-Nell, but—" A disheartened smile played for an instant on his features as instinctively he glanced at Miss Jennie. He readily perceived where the trouble lay, but it was not for him to mark the effect of good intention. He turned to withdraw, but paused at the door as if something had been left unsaid.

"It is all right," he repeated, "only I hate to have intruded."

Ruby-Nell involuntarily stretched forth her arms. "Roger!" she screamed, and the next moment she was sobbing in his arms, muttering incoherently words of penitence and love.

"I knew I was doing you wrong," she was saying, "but I loved you, Roger, and you alone. I have suffered long, oh, oh so much! It seems to me that all should be forgiven! Tell me, tell me you love me and forgive me!"

Above the roar of the winds, above the clatter of voices, the Squire's piping accents were heard. "I know something was going to happen! Brother Rockwood, shake! Roger, have you got them licenses with you? Have you got them? Give them right here to me!"

PEOPLE TALKED ABOUT

AMERICAN ORGAN PUZZLES SAINT-SAENS

Camille Saint-Saens, the renowned French organist, who is in this country for the purpose of giving a series of recitals, found himself up against a hard proposition when he essayed to play an American organ. The venerable organist is 71 years old, and he found it hard to learn the American instrument. It was said that he was instructed by Scott Wheeler, the organist of the Plymouth church, who is himself one of the best organists in New York city, if not in the country.

Mr. Wheeler said that it was hardly fair to say that he had instructed the famous organist. M. Saint-Saens was somewhat discouraged on beginning his tour, and he was told that if he could not play the Plymouth organ he could not play many of the American instruments, for the Plymouth organ is the most complete in the country. The American is constructed from the French organ, the stops, pedals, etc., being arranged on a distinctive plan. M. Saint-Saens found special difficulty in mastering the fan-shaped pedals of the American instrument, but he is understood to have mastered the essential points in the difference of construction and to have gone on his way rejoicing.

M. Saint-Saens is more of a composer than he is an executant, and he is better known by his works than by his playing, although he can play a number of instruments. He has appeared at Carnegie hall, in Manhattan, but here he played the piano with the orchestra. He is to visit all the large cities of the United States. It is probable that he will also conduct the rendering of some of his own compositions.

The French organist has probably heard of the annoying incident which happened to the great composer, Gullmit, in the New York Avenue M. E. church, two or three years ago. The organ in this church is regarded as one of the finest instruments in the United States, and it was built at large expense. Gullmit gave two recitals there. The first went off all right, but at the second one, the audience began being impatient with the instrument. Gullmit gave out right in the middle of the playing by Gullmit of one of his celebrated pieces, and the great organist was in a pet in a second. Someone went upon the platform and asked if there was anyone in the audience who knew how to operate the instrument. Some one volunteered to get the big organ going again, and Gullmit finished his recital without further hindrance.

It is related of Dudley Buck that he had his own troubles when the beautiful new organ was installed in the Church of the Holy Trinity and it was doubtful for some time whether he could be induced to play the instrument on the first Sunday it was ready for use. The famous American composer and organist found his way to the organ loft morning and evening for a week or two, putting in extra hours mastering the stops and electrical appliances, but he at last, through many brave trials, mastered the instrument perfectly and long played upon it.

MAY HEAD CHICAGO UNIVERSITY

Dr. Harry Pratt Judson, who will probably be elevated to the presidency of the University of Chicago, has been acting head of the institution since the death of President Harper, and is widely known as an educator of proved ability. He has been connected with the University of Chicago since 1892, and at the time of his selection as acting president was head professor of political science and dean of the faculty of arts, literature and science.

Dr. Judson comes of a family noted as being among the founders of the Baptist church in this country. He was born at Jamestown, N. Y., in 1849, and was graduated in 1870 from William College, which subsequently gave him the degree of LL. D., as did Queen's University of Canada.

From 1870 until 1885 he was teacher in and principal of the Troy (N. Y.) high school, and from the latter date until his affiliation with the University of Chicago he was professor of history in the University of Minnesota. Dr. Judson has written a number of valuable books and has been decorated by the German emperor.

FOE OF WISCONSIN LOBBYIST

Charles McCarthy runs the legislative reference department of the Wisconsin legislature. "That doesn't mean anything until you analyze it. Then you find that it has saved the state of Wisconsin millions of dollars directly, that it has benefited tens of thousands of citizens of the commonwealth to an incalculable amount, that it has practically put the lobbyist out of business at Madison, and that for all these good things the taxpayers have paid him less than $2,000 a year, and that for a very few years."

"Mac" is a Ph. D. He understands law and lawmaking. He believes it is cheaper to make a bill right before it is enacted than to find out its weak points later after expensive litigation. He furnishes the solons balls of statistics on every subject under consideration. On one occasion "Mac" discovered that a certain affable gentleman, addicted to the liberal purchase of refreshments had the legislators "going" on a proposition to donate $100,000 to a charitable enterprise. He told them this 35 states had already contributed.

That night the legislative reference department telegraphed to 35 state capitals. When the legislature met next day the answers to those telegrams had been received and placed before the lawmakers, who had asked for information about their subject matter. They were about as different from the affable and affable stranger's representations as a Wisconsin white pine tree is from a blueberry bush. The legislature smelt an Ethiopian in the woodpile, and that bill for the appropriation of $100,000 for a certain patriotic purpose was not heard from thereafter.

McCarthy is the rural legislator's friend. He sets him right on intricate propositions and punctures the hot air "arguments" which the persuasive lobbyist forces on the bewildered legislator.

Before McCarthy was made a doctor of philosophy he played football at Brown university and was a member of an All-American team. He retains so much of his athletic vigor that he does not feel very much embarrassed when a husky lobbyist frowns at him. He can hold his own in argument of several kinds, and moreover, does an occasional stunt at the state university delivering lectures on economics.

SAYS AMERICA WILL RULE WORLD

Alfred Mosely, capitalist and one of England's foremost thinkers on industrial subjects, who has brought a party of 500 English school-teachers to this country to study our educational system, says this country is destined to rule the world.

This is Mr. Mosely's explication of this kind of thing. In 1902, when he brought a party of workmen over to study our factory methods, he said:

"It was the arrival of American engineers in South Africa that brought prosperity to that country. We couldn't get along; we made a failure of it till Americans like Gardner Williams, John Hay Hammond and others came to show us the way to success. If I were only 10 years old I would take steps to become an American citizen. The United States will yet rule the world, industrially, educationally, ethically and probably—when you get ready to use your armed force—physically. We have come to America to learn how to succeed. We are quite honest and open about it. Your enormous success, which has placed the markets of the world at your mercy, is due to the education of your people and to your superior methods of production. We want to know how to do things as well in England."

Mr. Mosely says betting is a great evil among English workers. He believes in a government lottery as conducted in Germany to take limited wagers and guard the people against being swindled.

With his own sons, Mr. Mosely is in both the British and the American universities to the test. One son is a sophomore at Yale and another is a member at the University of Cambridge, England.

I wish to notify my friends and the public generally that I will be in New York until February 1st at the John J. Mitchell cutting school, the largest cutting school in America, where I will take a course in cutting instruction. When I return I will be prepared to show as elaborate a line of new spring goods as the market affords and will be able to turn out as high class tailoring as can be obtained in any city. During my absence my business will be conducted by Mr. Hardy Hadden.

The Weather.

For Kentucky—Tuesday, fair and warmer.

Paducah is having trouble with its public schools, the entire faculty threatening to resign when the principal and superintendent leave at the close of present session.

Miss Ora V. Leigh has returned from Salt Lake City and accepted a position as reporter on the Paducah News-Democrat.

Dark tobacco growers won a big victory in Springfield, Tenn., when Judge Stout granted an injunction restraining the Tobacco Trust from buying tobacco from a member of the association.

Seven persons dropped three stores when the elevator cable broke in the Phoenix Hotel in Lexington, but no one was injured, although all jumbled together when the car stopped.

The Court of Appeals allowed Carnes to proceed with the Hargis case, but ordered him to draw the jury in the regular way. A change of venue will probably be granted to some county other than Breathitt.

Other new senators elected last week were: Norris Brown, of Nebraska; Wm. A. Smith, of Michigan; Joseph M. Dixon, of Montana; and Simon Guggenheim, of Colorado, all Republicans. Three other Republicans were re-elected—Frye, of Maine; Burnham, of New Hampshire, and Crane, of Massachusetts.

With a rise of two feet expected in the Ohio river at Cincinnati, the flood situation showed but little signs of encouragement for those cities and towns below. High winds and heavy rains prevailed for a short time Saturday night. The wind blew.

down many houses in submerged sections all along the river, and the cold wave which followed has caused much suffering among the refugees.

Nearly 40 people are believed to have lost their lives in an accident on the Big Four railroad at Stanford, Ind., where a car of powder on a siding exploded while an accommodation passenger train was passing. Twenty-two bodies have been recovered from the debris, while parts of corpses found in the vicinity lead the officials to the belief that the casualties will nearly twice that. No conclusive explanation can be furnished as to the cause of the explosion.

The February Everybody's makes a wide appeal to Americans—to every one, in fact, who is "awake." There is a remarkable group of six special articles, and for entertainment seven fiction contributions of the highest order of excellence. In addition, there are special drawings, poems, and the usual departments of book reviewing, humor, and publishers' "straight talk." "Our Industrial Juggernaut," by Arthur B. Reeve, is an astonishing exposition of the yearly sacrifice of life in America to the twin gods of speed and greed.

The life story of E. H. Harriman, the man who reorganized the Union Pacific Railroad and created the "Harriman System" of Western roads, is at last told at length in the January Review of Reviews by Carl Snyder. Very little material of an authentic nature has heretofore been printed concerning this modern "Colossus of Roads," as the editor of the Wall Street Journal very aptly styles Mr. Harriman. The article by Mr. Snyder is both illuminating and convincing. It is based on a thorough study of the Western railroad situation, and of Mr. Harriman's relations thereto.

THE FREEZE.

The sudden descent of the temperature from 70 degrees to freezing in less than ten hours, Saturday night was a death blow to the prospect for another peach year, especially the extra early varieties. During the storm of Saturday night, which struck the city at 6:15, no damage was done to property, as far as we have heard. The sun shone brightly all day Sunday but the air was so cold that wraps and overcoats could not be dispensed with. Yesterday morning the mud and pools of the streets were frozen hard and fast. The loss probably in peaches, however was more than compensated for by the setback in growing wheat, which was so far advanced that it had almost gotten to the jointing stage. Besides the freezing weather was greatly beneficial to the tobacco that had not been delivered. A great deal of it was in too high order and there was great danger of a loss of a large per centage by moulding. The deliveries, which had been as heavy as road conditions permitted, was almost altogether checked until the next change comes on.

SLIGHTLY PERSONAL.

SCHMIDT—Mr. B. C. Schmidt, lately with John Young, was glad to meet his old friends and customers in the hardware department of the Planters Hardware Co., having taken a position there yesterday. He is a competent and industrious young man, and will please all alike.

LOCKYEAR—Prof. Lockyear, when in the city last week, in a side conversation, remarked that every five minutes of sunshine had been carefully jotted down and Evansville had had but ten hours of sunshine in a month. It has been about the same way here until Friday last, and when the Prof. unbottled his sunshine at the banquet everybody felt as if they had gotten into a new atmosphere.

MCPHERSON—Dr. Millard A. Jenkins will leave on the 7th of next month for the Holy Land. During his stay Rev. Geo. W. McPherson, of New York City, will preach regularly at the Baptist church. Mr. McPherson is an evangelist of much power and will prove highly satisfactory to the large congregation over which he will have temporary oversight.

OWSLEY—Sam Owsley is very much interested in the wheat crop of Mr. Emmett Caudle. He says there are thousands of wild geese down there eating up Mr. Caudle's large wheat crop. It is said that Sam takes advantage of the opportunity to go down and thin them out, but if he has killed any so far they have not been seen. It is hinted that Sam may be more interested in a certain young lady in that section than Mr. Caudle's wheat crop.

JENKENS—We have heard many persons remark on Dr. Millard A. Jenkins' resemblance to the late Sam Jones. The likeness was never more marked than last Friday night at Lockyear's banquet. The Doctor had a seat against the wall near the speaker and no one enjoyed the jokes of Prof. Lockyear more than Mr. Jenkins. Though thoroughly in earnest in his Master's work Dr. Jenkins enjoys a good joke as much as anybody, and when the joke is only a snip enough to provoke a smile a snap shot at that time would pass current for Sam Jones as the original.

HOGUE—Mr. Frank Hogue expects to go to Pittsburgh shortly to look into the manufacture of a patent in which he is financially interested. Mr. Hogue is one of the most active promoters of our city and boast and if he, which no doubt he will, puts the same strenuous efforts in his enterprise that he does for the Home Telephone Co. the probabilities are that he will soon become a bloated capitalist.

KENNEDY—Mr. W. B. Kennedy is home again from Europe, where he had been for about two months on business. Mr. Kennedy is one of the best tobacco men of this section of the State. Gradually he has risen from a boy at the stammer's stand to the front rank of purchasers for the foreign market. "Big" is one of the most competent judges of the weed and when his opinion is given it is always worth remembering. His family lives on South Walnut street, but Mr. Kennedy's business requires most of his time in Paducah the year round. He is always busy.

FOR SALE—Soda fountain, in good condition, has two new tanks; also two show cases, cheap. Thomas Dattilo, 204 S. Main.

THE BANQUET.

At Lockyear's Business College a Big Success.

The banquet given to the scholars, graduates and a number of special guests at Lockyear's Business College Friday night was a great event in the history of that popular institution. Miss Carrie Moore, the local manager, was in charge and her guests received her most careful attention. She dispensed smiles and had a word of cheer and welcome for everybody and the evening was most delightful in every way. Prof. M. H. Lockyear, the Principal, came over from Evansville and delivered his famous lecture, "Sunshine." For years Prof. Lockyear has been gathering a lot of jokes and humorous stories and has woven them into a light and airy lecture, which provokes laughter from start to finish. He has committed them to memory and tells them in a most attractive manner. After the lecture refreshments were served by young ladies connected with the college, which was a signal for a good time socially. Groups of bright eyed girls and their beaux gathered in different parts of the room, the invited guests of more mature years gathered in knots here and there caught the infection of happiness and merriment which brooded over the assemblage. Prof. Lockyear was voted the prime of merriment producers and Miss Moore the queen of hostesses.

Long Live The King!

is the popular cry throughout European countries, while in America, the cry of the present day is "Long live Dr. King's New Discovery." King of Throat and Lung Remedies! of which Mrs. Julia Ryder Paine, Truro, Mass., says: "It never fails to give immediate relief and to quickly cure a cough or cold." Mrs. Paine's opinion is shared by a majority of the inhabitants of this country. New Discovery cures weak lungs and sore throats after all other remedies have failed; and for coughs and colds it's the only sure cure. Guaranteed by R. C. Hardwick, Druggist. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

WHITE—Mr. Bob White made his first appearance at his boarding house yesterday morning for ten days. He says he has just recovered from a mild attack of fever. One of his friends is of the opinion that he has heart trouble, as his 82d proposal was refused and he has not a future wife now in sight.

Girlhood and Scott's Emulsion are linked together.

Mrs. Hallie Seward, of Akron, Ohio, is visiting the family of her brother, Prof. C. H. Dietrich. Mr. and Mrs. Seward have just returned from a trip to California.

Mrs. Cynthia Sullivan, says the Times, is visiting friends in Pembroke and that she will also visit here before returning to Elktion.

Women as Well as Men Are MadeMiserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Many a woman who is the most vigorous and cheerful of her kind, when the kidneys are out of order or diseased, becomes a weakling.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a Home of Swamp-root pamphlet telling all about Swamp-root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

SOCIALAt Christian Church Last Friday Night.

The Y. P. S. C. E. Society of the Christian church, which is now in active work, gave a social in the lecture room of the church last Friday night. The guests of the evening were the societies of the Cumberland and First Presbyterian churches and others. The large lecture room was nearly filled and the evening was what it was designed to be—replete with youthful happiness, childish hilarity, consecration for renewed effort in the Christian life and closer relation with the young people of the different societies. A delightful program, consisting of solos and recitations, was carried out. The readings of Miss Virginia Williamson was a most interesting feature. She has wonderful power for her age and her friends believe she will attain distinction. Refreshments were served at the proper hour and quite a time was indulged in social converse. The young ladies and gentlemen of South Kentucky College were out in force and highly enjoyed the freedom of the evening. Altogether the occasion was greatly enjoyed by all present.

BRAKEMAN DIESOf Injuries Sustained by Train at Pembroke.

Fred Hosse, the L. & N. brakeman who was run over by the cars at Pembroke Friday morning, died of his injuries Friday night at his home in Exelington, where he was taken shortly after the accident. The remains were interred in Mt. Olivet cemetery, Nashville, Sunday.

Mr. Hosse was forty-two years old and formerly lived in Nashville. He is survived by his widow and six children.

ANOTHER NEGRO KILLED*Pistol and Axe Used By Slayer With Deadly Effect.*MURDERER ESCAPED.*Trouble Originated About a Negro Woman, Both Men Being Drunk.

Another killing occurred last Sunday afternoon among the colored race at Weaver's Store, in Tennessee, about four miles from Lafayette, in which a negro by the name of White shot Geo. Collins, another negro. After shooting him with a pistol White, to make more complete his job, seized an axe nearby and struck his victim on the head and other places. It was a cruel butchery. As is usual the murderer made his escape. The trouble is said to have arisen over a woman. Both men were drunk, says our informant, and after quarreling over the woman engaged in a hand to hand fight, in which White managed to get his gun out of his pocket and shot Collins. Though he had inflicted a mortal wound he made assurance doubly sure by grabbing an axe and braining Collins and otherwise horribly mutilating him.

The Charming Woman is not necessarily one of perfect form and features. Many a plain woman who could never serve as an artist's model, possesses those rare qualities that all the world admires; neatness, clear eyes, clean smooth skin and that sprightliness of step and action that accompany good health. A physically weak woman is never attractive, not even to herself. Electric Bitters restore weak women, give strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvety skin, beautiful complexion. Guaranteed at R. C. Hardwick's, Druggist, 50c.

TWO SUITSAgainst Railroad Company, Aggregating $5,195.

Suit has been filed here by Mrs. Myra L. Daugherty against the I. C. railroad company for $5,195 damages for alleged personal injuries. Plaintiff states in her petition that one day in June, last, she was driving a horse hitched to a surrey on the Canton pike, near where the pike crosses the company's road, when the animal became frightened at large discharges of powder, dynamite or other high explosive, set off by the defendants' employees while working on the right of way in a deep cut, and ran off, throwing her out. She further alleges that her ankle was sprained, her back hurt and that she was internally injured. W. T. Daugherty, husband of above plaintiff, who was with his wife at the time of the accident, has also filed suit against the company for $95. He alleges that his horse was rendered practically useless and his surrey almost demolished.

A Memorable Day

One of the days we remember with pleasure, as well as with profit to our health, is the one on which we became acquainted with Dr. King's New Life Pills, the painless purifiers that cure headache and biliousness, and keep the bowels right. 25c. at R. C. Hardwick's Drug Store.

CONTRACTOROf Evansville, Suffers Stroke of Paralysis.

Capt. Denny, of Evansville, Ind., is lying in a serious condition at Canton, as a result of paralysis. Capt. Denny has a cross-tie contract in Trigg, and was enroute from Cadiz to Canton last Thursday to look after his business, when stricken. He was driving in a buggy with a friend about four miles from Canton when the stroke came. He was taken to the hotel at Canton and has since been under the care of a physician. On Sunday he suffered another stroke, his entire body being involved, and the report from his bedside yesterday was to the effect that he would probably not survive the day.

FIFTY DEGREESDrop in Temperature Brings Fair Weather.

The rainy "spell" which lasted about two weeks, was broken Saturday night, and Sunday was clear and bright. The temperature dropped about thirty degrees by Sunday morning and another drop Sunday night brought the mercury down several degrees below the freezing point. The forecast for today is fair and warmer.

BANQUETAt Hotel Latham By Traveling Men Next Saturday Night.

The business meeting of the local traveling men at Hotel Latham last Saturday night was largely attended and important business was transacted. One of the main features was the arrangement for a banquet next Saturday night. It will be a very elaborate affair and fifty covers will be placed. Only the local members of the organization and a few specially invited guests will be present.

Keep Your Blood Pure.

No one can be happy, light-hearted and healthy with a body full of blood that cannot do its duty to every part because of its impurity; therefore the first and most important work in hand is to purify the blood so that every organ will get the full benefit of a healthy circulation. There is no remedy, we know of so good as that old family remedy, Brandreth's Pills. Each pill contains one grain of the solid extract of sarsaparilla blended with two grains of a combination of pure and mild vegetable products, making it a blood purifier unexcelled in character. One or two taken every night for awhile will produce surprising results.

Brandreth's Pills have been in use for over a century and are sold in every drug and medicine store, either plain or sugar-coated.

A WONDERFUL DISCOVERY.

An Interesting History of One of the Most Popular Household Remedies.

USED IN THE EARLY AGES.

From the dim dawn of antiquity, the peoples of the earth have utilized the twigs and leaves of the camphor tree as a potent factor in relieving and healing the many ills which the human flesh is heir to. In the early stages of civilization the heathens used camphor in a crude form, and through centuries that have passed it has come down to succeeding ages, a priceless heritage. The natives of the far east anointed their bodies with this product as one of the first and most simple remedies. From time to time camphor has been combined with other chemical compounds and used for the treatment of both external and internal ailments, though its chief virtue is as an external preparation.

KNOWN TO OUR GRANDMOTHERS.

The simplest form, and that best known of all to us—that familiar friend and companion of our childhood, with which our grandmothers so affectionately caressed our pains and aches, is whiskey and camphor. The old camphor bottle revives in our fancy the happiest recollection of our childhood's home, when care was an undiscovered country and the world was a vast playground created for our own amusement.

DEVELOPED BY A SCOTCH PHYSICIAN.

It remained however, for a distinguished Scotch physician and chemist to develop the most effective medicinal combination, with camphor as a basis. While acting as Pathologist of the Royal Infirmary and stationed in the Indies, in the year 1876, this chemist had occasion to investigate, from a scientific viewpoint, the effect of a solution of kerosene steeped in sandal-wood twigs used by the natives of that country to counteract the ravages of a plague. When he returned to the city of Glasgow, Scotland, and while connected with the Andersonian College and the Royal Infirmary of Physicians of that city, he engaged in an extensive series of experiments along the line of the secret solution used by these natives.

PERFECTED IN THE UNITED STATES.

After years of toil, pursued in many countries and many climes, in the year 1898, when a citizen and resident of the United States of America, he perfected a solution of camphor and essential oils which he called PARACAMPH, and which is a revolution in the treatment of external injuries. Thus has the wisdom of the East combined with the aggressiveness and activity of the West, giving to the world its greatest healing remedy.

We do not hesitate to guarantee Paracamp to cure Rheumatism, Swelling, Neuralgia, Catarrh, Throat Troubles, Eczema, Tetter and Itching or Bleeding Piles, because many of our customers report to us daily that they have been cured by its use and because we know Paracamp will do exactly what we claim for it. Paracamp is a clean, safe, household remedy which every family needs every day of the year. It is truly a First Aid to the Injured and if you have not used it try Paracamp to-day on your guarantee to return money if it fails to do what we claim for it. WEALTH IN IRON

ORE DEPOSITS THAT ARE BET-TER THAN GOLD MINES.

Billions of Dollars of Metal Under the Crust of Old Mother Earth in the Mesaba Range.

The greatest ore deal in the world was that in which J. J. Hill transferred the right to mine the Hill property in the Mesaba range to the United States Steel corporation. Few realized when they read the news item announcing the transaction what was involved.

It is believed by conservative judges that the United States Steel corporation now has in its possession the largest individual reserve deposit to be found in the world. It has been estimated that there is beneath the relatively shallow blanket of turf covering the ore on the Mesaba range and in the Michigan belt just across the head of Lake Superior, about 2,200,000,000 tons of ore. Of this the steel trust controlled before it secured the right to mine in Mr. Hill's iron pile about 1,250,000,000 tons of ore, an asset on the basis of one dollar a ton, which exceeds the entire capital stock of the trust—$1,100,000,000. Now it can draw on a total deposit of 1,750,000,000 tons, an asset of as many dollars. On this valuation it would require approximately two-thirds of the entire money supply of the country to pay cash for this deposit.

How big a pile of ore is it that the trust now controls and how long will it last? A ton of ore does not always occupy the same space. Some ore weighs more to the cubic foot than other ore. The average content of a ton is between nine and ten cubic feet. Say nine cubic feet. Then the trust has secured from Mr. Hill and allied interests a pile 100 feet deep, a mile wide and a mile and three-fifths long.

How long will this giant heap of iron wealth keep the steel trust supplied with ore? Last year the trust took away from its mines in the Lake Superior region 19,251,872 tons. This was 66 per cent., or a little more than half, of the entire shipment of ore from that region. It is believed that the trust will not take less than 25,000,000 tons this year. At the latter rate its ore supply will last just 79 years and 6 months. It is not beyond the range of possibility, however, that other deposits than those of which there is now knowledge will be brought to light on the property it has leased from Mr. Hill. Of the iron produced in the world in 1902, which amounted to 197,785,000 tons, more than a third was mined in the United States, a fifth in Germany, and 13.5 per cent. in Great Britain. From the soil of two states alone, Minnesota and Michigan, nearly 35,000,000 tons were brought forth. The millions, or about 6,000,000 more than the German empire took out of their part of the earth's crust. All of this ore came from the mines about the western end of the greatest of the great lakes. While iron ore was mined in other states and two territories that year, only one—Alabama—produced over a million tons. Its production was 3,648,969 tons. The steel trust has reached into the future and has assured itself of a supply of the essential raw material sufficient to last more than two generations.

In order to make sure of a 20-year's supply, in addition to the 50 or 60 years' stock on hand, it has agreed to pay the highest royalties ever paid for the right to mine iron ore. The steel trust will pay to Mr. Hill's company a royalty of 85 cents a ton for hauling it to the upper lake piers with an increase of 3.4 cents a ton each succeeding year. It has agreed to take out 750,000 tons in 1907, to increase the amount each year by 750,000 tons, until the amount reaches 8,500,000 tons. That means that in 20 years the trust will take the maximum amount of ore, and pay $1.19 a ton royalty for it. Mr. Hill's road will make about 50 cents a ton hauling this ore.

Fruit and Intemperance.

There is but one sure cure for the drinking disease or habit, and that is the simplest of all. The cure consists in eating fruit. That will cure the worst case of intemperance that ever afflicted a person. It will entirely destroy the taste for intoxicants and will make the drunkard return to the sober and tastes of his childhood, when he loved the luxuries nature had provided for him and when his appetite had not become contaminated by false, cultivated tastes and attendant false desires and imaginary pleasures.—What To Eat.

Farm Progress.

How We Now Feed
Land Which Then Abundantly Feeds Us.

THE modern farmer treats his soil well and has secured the true spirit of progress. He has a system of management. He practices rotation of crops. He knows his fields, what each is best capable of producing and how long it will be safe to leave a certain crop on a certain piece of ground. He knows, for instance, that clover is a great restorer of fertility, hence the need for bringing it around at the proper time in the system of rotation. Sometimes he does not know why this is the case. A farmer is the most intelligent agriculturist in the world today. He is studying his business. When he finds his fields in a plant food, understanding his rotation of crops, he treats them with care, or manure. The plants themselves know what is best for them. The farmer, by using his plants, leaving them in the soil, is doing an important part in the success or failure of his work. We feed our land with blood. We feed it with manure, and blood, then we are not making ourselves weak. We manage our fields. However you have intelligent soil, you should get the "stomach" into a healthy working condition by taking plenty of outdoor exercise and give it a rougher time. The stomach is the most important part of the system. It is the stomach that makes up good, red blood, then we are not making ourselves weak. We manage our fields. However you have intelligent soil, you should get the "stomach" into a healthy working condition by taking plenty of outdoor exercise and give it a rougher time.

These States than any other stomach and blood remedy. Start the blood circulating properly, and you cure the cause of the cure, for calarrs is stagnation of the blood. The Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery restores the lost flesh by curing disease of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, and enabling perfect digestion and assimilation of food from which flesh and strength are made. For seven years I suffered with a complication of diseases, including heart trouble, dyspepsia, catarrh of the stomach, and female weakness, writes Mrs. Harriet Martin, of Plain, Rhode Island. During that time I was never without pain. Had smothering spells and a great many in lower bowels, and a very severe cough. Finally the doctor said I had consumption in the last stages and that I was bound to die. My husband then bought me a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I could tell my cough was better after the first dose. I continued his medicine until I had taken six bottles of his Golden Medical Discovery and my heart was cured. Now I am as well as ever and feel a family of four.

Farmers are talking about burning plant beds, but wood is too wet burn.

"Spring rains" began to fall in August and have hardly taken a rest

An undertaker remarked the other day that "everybody is living and miserable," but there are few undertakers who are not miserable when everybody is living. The undertaker's opportunity is "a source of regret," generally.

The different cut sales over town have been well patronized and the merchants are cleaning up for receiving their spring stocks.

There has been no complaint of dust for a long time, but a street sweeper will be needed—well, before the year is gone, perhaps.

Physical connection of the two railroads would give us a chance of a union station, say on the ground now occupied by the L. & N. station and a coal yard.

That accommodation train from here to Evansville over the L. & N. is liable to materialize soon, though nothing official has yet been promulgated.

Notwithstanding the heavy continuous rains Little River has not "been on a high" since the flood of November 20th.

We haven't heard anything of the fountain lately, presumably because "fresh" water is anything but a scarcity.

Major Bassett had that platform in front of his store put up not, as might be expected, as a coming tower to watch the coming of another flood, but as a place for Buster Brown and his dog "Tige" to amuse the public.

They're for the kidneys only—Have made great cures in Hopkinsville.

Wm. C. Davis, cooper, of No. 603 North Main street, says: "A dull bearing down pain across my kidneys and through the small of my back made it so painful for me to stoop or lift anything that I was unable to do any work or to have any pleasure. Whenever I took cold it settled in my back and at night bothered me a great deal while lying in bed.

Sharp twinges often kept me awake for hours and in the morning I arose feeling tired and devoid of all energy and ambition. The condition of the kidneys was especially annoying and distressing at night. I doctored and used many remedies until I became discouraged, for instead of getting better I seemed to grow worse. Finally I happened to read an advertisement of Doan's Kidney Pills, and as they were highly recommended by people nearby, I could not help but believe that they were a good remedy. I got a box and after using them a few days I could see a decided improvement. I kept on with the treatment and the pains in my back left me entirely and the action of the kidneys was restored to a normal and healthy condition."

A-SUFFERER FROM PILES

N. S. Wilbur, Secretary Louisville Base Ball Club, After Ten Years Suffering, Is Cured by Paracamp.

HAD TRIED MANY REMEDIES

N. S. Wilbur, the popular Secretary of the Louisville Base Ball Club, says: "I was a sufferer from Chronic Piles for a period of ten years or more, and while I used practically all of the known remedies, I received nothing but temporary relief. One night while traveling my suffering became so intense that in desperation I used Paracamp it being the only preparation that I had with me. I did not think for a moment that I would get relief, but in my condition was willing to try anything. Much to my surprise after the first application my suffering became less, I was able to go to sleep and when I awoke in the morning my pain was all gone. I applied Paracamp two or three times afterwards, not because I experienced any suffering but I feared a return of the pain. I am glad to state, however, that the trouble has entirely disappeared and I believe myself, for the first time in over ten years cured."

I regard the effect of Paracamp in my case as simply wonderful and would not have believed it possible for a remedy to do what it has done had it not been for my actual experience with the preparation."

Paracamp positively does not contain anything that will injure the most delicate skin. It is a clean, safe, cooling, soothing, application that every one can use every day with pleasing and satisfactory results.

Concert Tomorrow Night.
The Hungarian Orchestra will give a concert at the World's Fair, and will be engaged for concert work in the city at that time through Mrs. Potter Palmer, Chairman of the Ladies' Committee at the World's Fair, and played at many of the most important concerts and social affairs during that memorable year. They were also especially engaged for a season at Old Vienna and received the first grand gold medal for their work. Since that time they have played all through the east, returning to Chicago in time to play for Prince Henry on his tour through this county two years ago. While in Washington Mr. Schildkret played at a social affair attended by Miss Anna Rosenberg, as it is well known that in this connection to the World's Fair, the orchestra, under the leadership of a leader, has studied the works of the lyceum people and knows what to give the public in the way of concert programs. The company includes as soloists a pianist, violinist and flutist. Mr. Schildkret himself being one of the greatest flute soloists in the world. A special rate of 25 cents will be made to the children of the public schools for this attraction. Tickets can be had at the door. This is one of the finest orchestras in the county and should be greeted with a large audience. Tickets on sale at Anderson-Fowler Drug Co's. (Inc.) Reserved seats 50 cents.

AMUSEMENTS.

Wood & Ward have had their everlasting, singing, ringing, tomfooling musical farce entirely rewritten and arranged for all new musical numbers making the "Two Merry Tramps" practically a new show—nothing to be retained but the title. Among the musical numbers will be several that are original with the company, "The Belle of Earlsville," "A Tale of A Belgian Hare," and "The Trust Buster." This attraction will appear at Holland's opera house Tuesday night, Jan. 22.

Real Hooligan Coming.

Like Palmer Cox's Brownies and the Katzjammer Kids, Happy Hooligan is one of the caricature creatures that has evidently come to stay. Several clever, real comedies have been created with fun written around the character, but none it seems have yet approached in genuine merit and clean wit and humor the original comedy of Hooligan's Troubles, by Miss E. Swan, created into a play embodying the character strictly within the environment in which it belonged. Hooligan's Trouble portrays him as he is and the fun arising therefrom is fast and furious. This engagement is for Jan. 24, at Holland's opera house.

A Great Banquet.

Strasser's High Art Band, of 20 pieces, will give a grand concert of the best music at Union Tabernacle, February 15. S. C. Mercer, under whose direction the concert is to be given, will offer the best reserved seats at auction in the lobby of Hotel Latham. The gallery is reserved for colored people but reserved seats will be tickets. The colored people promise to pack the gallery. Dr. J. W. Lewis, Presiding Elder of this district, will read Mr. Mercer's poem "The Two Kentuckians"—L. Leon and Davis. This poem was read before the Elson Club in Louisville by Mrs. Mattie Dugan with great effect. Col. Durrett, President of the Club, said it was the most popular paper ever read before the club. Miss Williamson, of Bethel College, will read another poem of Mr. Mercer's, "The Angel of The Hospital," a sketch of the work of the Sisters of Charity. It is needless to comment on this widely published poem, which appeared in most of the papers North and South, during the civil war. Turn out, children of Germany, to the great concert, where you will hear the Grand March in Tannhauser and the Grand March in Faust rendered by the splendid band, under the direction of Louis A. Heeger, the accomplished cornetist.

HERE AND THERE.

LIE'S BIRTH DAY.

Appropriately Observed Local Saturday by U. D. C.

Christian County Chapter Daughters of the Confederacy appropriately observed the birthday of Gen. Robert E. Lee last Saturday. The exercises were held in the Episcopal Church and the large assemblage entered into them with the same spirit that prompted the ladies to arrange for the observance of the dawning of the natal star of the great Southern General and model man. A splendid choir sang several of the favorite hymns of the General. Rev. Edmund Harrison opened the exercises with a most touching prayer. After Rev. G. C. Abbott read Gen. Lee's farewell address and was followed by Dr. J. E. Fogarty, whose splendid address on "The Life and Character of General Lee" showed in the fullest light the loyalty to his people of the South as well as his noble Christian character and the courage to face disaster with heroism. Though Lee first saw the light a century ago, those who knew him, those who fought under him and loved him, those who survive him as well as the descendants of those who have passed over the river, reverence his name, which has gone down in history as one of the greatest of earth.

HOG CHOLERA

The Problem of a Cure is Now Solved

Dr. J. H. Snoddy, of Alton, Ill., has discovered a positive cure and preventative for this terrible disease. He has had it in use for ten years and has saved millions of dollars' worth of cholera hogs for the public. The directions for its use are simple and easy to follow. Any practical farmer can stop the worst outbreak of cholera that ever came and save every hog that is able to take the treatment.

This treatment is not an expense to a farmer, because it clears his herd of every character of worm and parasite and puts them in such a thrifty condition that the extra gain they will make from the effect of this treatment will return the farmer $5 in this extra gain for every dollar's worth of the remedy used properly and right.

It is the greatest worm remedy known to medical science. It pays a farmer to keep his hogs clear of worms with it. When the hog is clear of worms and in good thrifty condition it is rather a hard matter to infect him with cholera without directly exposing him to the germ. It pays to use the medicine whether there is any cholera around or not. This wonderful remedy is manufactured by the Dr. J. H. Snoddy Remedy Co., Alton, Ill., and is for sale by Planters Hardware Co., incorporated, of Hopkinsville, and E. W. Stegar & Dixon, at Masonville, Ky. Anyone calling on either of these firms can get Dr. Snoddy's free book on hog cholera, free of charge. Every farmer should have one.

When everything seems up a stump,
And fortune is "agin" you,
Don't pine. Spruce up—show the world
You've got the timber in you.

Andrew Carnegie, Rockefeller, the Vanderbilts and Russell Sage saved a part of their income and put it away in the bank. When the time came for them to make investments they had something saved up. Money rules the world. Without money you are without friends. Open an account to-day.
